

Alberto Ramos

Web Developer

Profile

Determined and enthusiastic web developer, I am ready to embark on a dynamic career with a strong expertise in web development principles and technologies.

Always seeking improvement and passionate about solving complex problems, I thrive in fast-paced and challenging environments, which drives me to excel in high-demand settings.

My ambition is to actively participate in innovative projects, bringing creative and effective solutions to advance your company. Since obtaining my last degree,

I have never stopped studying with online resources every day, continuously becoming a better web developer.

Web Skills

HTML5 for structuring pages, CSS and Tailwind for responsive design, JavaScript, TypeScript, React, Vue.js, and Astro for creating dynamic and performant applications, Redux for state management, and Git & GitHub for version control and collaboration.
